The evening of Tuesday October 2nd was a gala event for local jewelry artisans, David and Cynthia Ryder of ...and now for something completely different... jewelry from Mboot.net Designs. They were the recipients of a prestigious award presented by the Metal Arts Guild of Nova Scotia at the Guilds annual competition and exhibition hosted at the Art Gallery of Nova Scotia in Halifax.

The Ryder's received The Frank Phillips Award of Excellence for their submission "Ribbon", a woven sterling silver pin accented with rose quartz. This award is one of the three main awards presented at the competition.

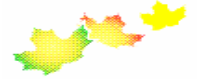

The awards ceremony opened at 7PM with the arrival of The Honourable Mayann E. Francis, the Lieutenant Governor in Nova Scotia, at the Art Gallery of Nova Scotia. The presentations were followed by a lively reception and viewing of the exhibit where several of the award winners, including the Ryders, had an opportunity to speak with Her Honour and other distinguished guests of the Guild.

The annual competition is a themed event, with the 2007 theme being Which Craft?. This juried competition has 11 distinct categories for work in metal arts ranging from fine jewelry, blade making to sculptural metal work. It featured works by 12 artists with 44 submissions. The exhibition was juried and judged by Wesley Harris of Corner Brook, Newfoundland, whose work is found in many private collections including a brooch made for Princess Anne in 1991; Shirley Fader, an artist of international note, well known for her enamel work and as an instructor at the Nova Scotia College of Art and Design; and Susan Hanrahan, Executive Director of the Nova Scotia Designer Crafts Council.

This is the second significant Metal Arts competition win by the Ryder's. When asked, they exclaimed that they "are surprised and delighted because the work that our guild colleagues present is always remarkable, and to receive a top award for technical excellence is truly outstanding when we are surrounded by such exceptional craftsmanship." The Frank Phillips Award of Excellence follows last year's success and receipt of The Touch of Gold Design Trophy for best design of 2006.

Which Craft? is on display at the Art Gallery of Nova Scotia in Halifax until Sunday October 28th.

The Ryder's work from a private studio near their home in Harvey Station, New Brunswick. Their work can be seen in Fredericton, New Brunswick at the Art Trek Studio Tour from October 13-14th at Mazerolle Gallery, 384 Queen Street; and new work will be shown at their "Connectivity" exhibition at The Foyer Gallery of the Charlotte Street Arts Centre from December 2007 through mid-January 2008. They are also showing at the Nova Scotia Designer Crafts Council Christmas Craft Market, Pier 23 Halifax, November 16-18th and in Ottawa at the Originals Christmas Craft Market, December 6-16th.
